

The background of the poster is a vibrant illustration of a Halloween night event. At the top, a bright green and yellow sun or moon is partially obscured by a large, colorful firework exploding in the sky. Silhouettes of people in various costumes, including a witch, a ghost, and a person in a long black robe, are scattered across the scene. In the foreground, several glowing jack-o'-lanterns with different facial expressions are placed on a dark, reflective surface. The overall atmosphere is festive and spooky.
